

lynda.com[®]

Meet your new personal trainer

Learn more at:
ittraining.iu.edu/lynda

Need to brush up on the latest software?

No problem -- Lynda has more than 650 video-based training courses.

Lynda.com is a leading provider of online self-study training, with comprehensive coverage of Adobe applications, open source software, Macintosh applications, and multimedia and web programming. Lynda works well for those who are short on time and need self-study options.

IU students, faculty, and staff statewide get free access to the entire lynda elearning library from August 20 to December 20, thanks to a fall pilot to gauge interest in elearning options.

Lynda has something for everyone:

Students

Lynda will boost your Adobe and web programming skills.

Faculty

Lynda courses can help you and your students tap into IT resources for teaching, learning, and research.

Staff

Lynda's search capabilities will help you target the specific training you need.

Questions? Contact UITS IT Training.

IUPUI: (317) 274-7383; ittraining@iupui.edu

INDIANA UNIVERSITY

UNIVERSITY INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY SERVICES